The drawing illustrates a cable network layout for a street named "de la Meunière". It shows a grid of buildings with various cable points (N°1 to N°10) and cables (Cable 1 to Cable 10) connecting them. A blue dashed line indicates a specific cable route. The drawing includes several inset photographs showing the physical locations of the cable points on the buildings. The inset photos are labeled with their respective cable numbers and building numbers. The main drawing also includes labels for "PAC" (Public Access Point) and "PAC 100" (Public Access Point 100). The drawing is a technical representation of a cable network layout for a street named "de la Meunière".
